FITNESS STATIONS are indicated by RED dots:

It is recommended that fitness stations should be located in the parks, particularly C. Fred Johnson Park because of the visibility and enough space to make a circuit loop around the park. The only other public park location suitable for a station would be Jennison Park. It is recommended that if one is placed in Jennison Park, it be family friendly and allow children to have play activity on it as well as adult ability to use it as an exercise function if they so wish.
